

NO HOPE

In Germany That War With United States Can be Avoided

WAR IS NOT WANTED

But No Way Seen to Reconcile Policies of Two Governments On Submarine Warfare

Copenhagen, Feb. 11.—Little hope prevails in Berlin that war with the United States is avoidable or that methods for reconciling the policies of the two governments will be found. Authorities and people desire to avoid actual hostilities, if a way may be found consistent with the general lines of submarine policy.

Accordingly, U-boat commanders have been told to take the safe side in dealing with neutral vessels, but they have been informed that they will be no longer subject to punishment for departing from the procedure in warning vessels upon finding it advisable for the safety of submarines.

It is considered that the only possibility of avoiding hostilities is a modification of the standpoint of one side or the other.

Alfred Zimmermann, German minister of foreign affairs, has positively declared that there is no probability that Germany will abandon its ruthless campaign.

Ambassador Gerard was not officially notified until after the imperial chancellor had announced the relentless campaign, on January 31. There was, therefore, no opportunity for negotiations.

MODIFICATION MAY BE DISCUSSED AT GERMAN ARMY CONFERENCE.

London, Feb. 11.—An important conference at headquarters has been called by Emperor William, presumably to discuss the submarine question, says an Amsterdam correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company.

Dr. von Bethman-Hollweg, imperial chancellor, and high army and navy officials will attend.

The correspondent adds that the possibility of negotiations with neutrals modifying the terms of the recent German memorandum will be discussed.

PUSHING THE EMERGENCY MEASURES

Congress Working Overtime in Clearing Way for Preparedness Bill

Washington, Feb. 11.—The senate having endorsed by an overwhelming vote the action of President Wilson in breaking diplomatic relations with Germany, congress is working overtime in the consideration of general important business together with emergency measures necessitated by the international situation.

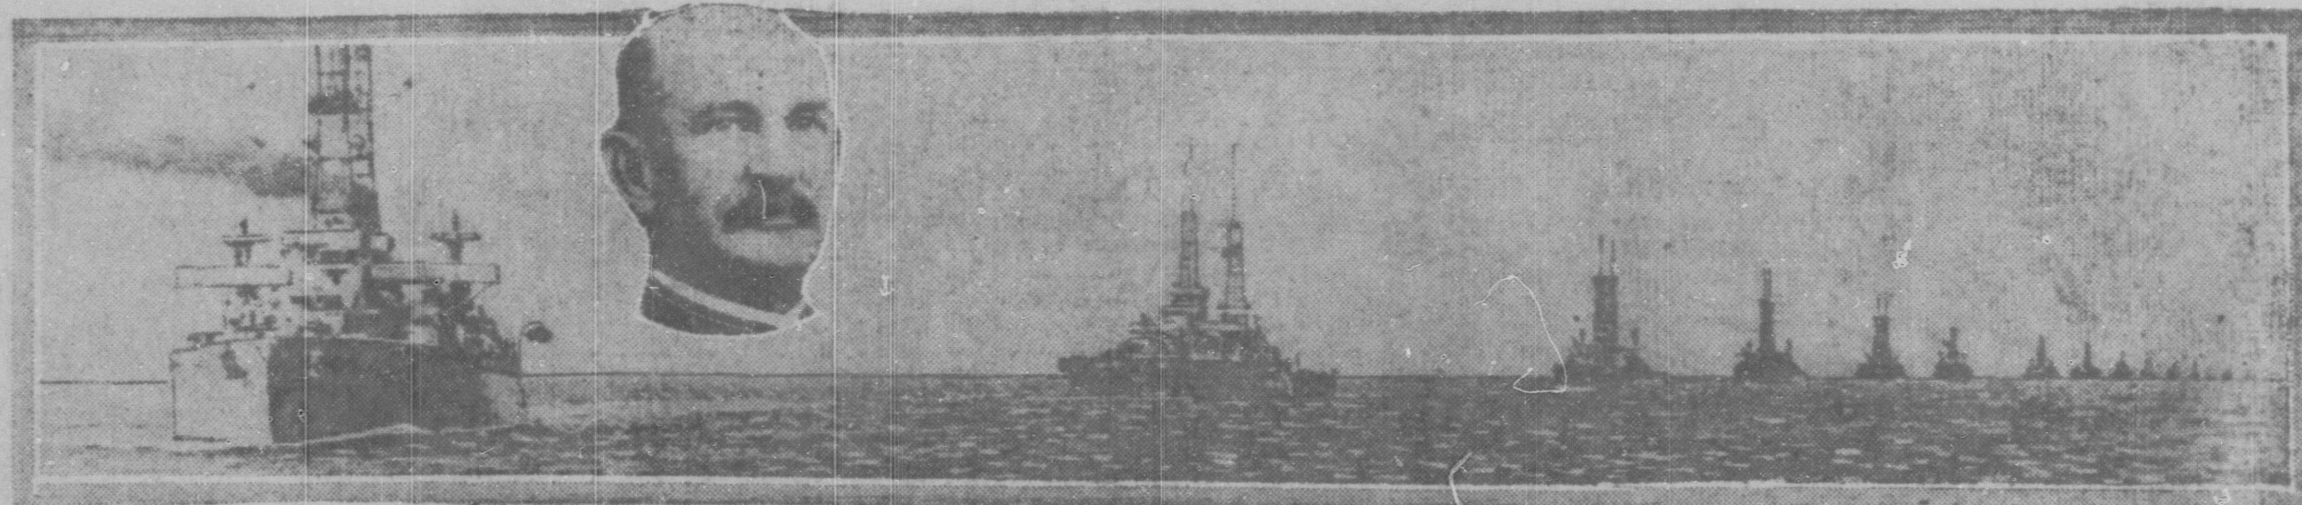

Tuesday, the house will pass the naval appropriation bill and the army appropriation bill, carrying approximately three hundred million dollars, which will be put through as quickly as possible.

The senate expects, tomorrow, to pass the Porto Rico citizenship bill, and the fight will begin on the post-office appropriation bill.

The revenue legislation in the senate will be pressed, shortly.

BANK CLEARINGS ARE INCREASED IN PORTO RICO.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Feb. 11.—Clearings of San Juan banks for the year 1916 were $81,255,332.63, the largest on record and an increase of more than $23,000,000 over the previous year. Each month of the year showed an increase over the corresponding month of 1915.

This is part of the great Atlantic fleet now in southern waters, and Admiral Mayo, in command. In a conference with Secretary of the Navy Daniels Saturday, February 3, the president directed that Admiral Mayo be ordered to place his ships on a war footing. What other movements these vessels will make from their present scene will probably be kept secret by the Navy Department.

BRITISH TAKE STRONG LINES OF TRENCHES

In Their Push on Bapaume, and Also Push Back in Mesopotamia

Associated Press, Feb. 11.—The British continue their operations against the Germans with Bapaume as their objective.

On Saturday night a strong system of trenches north of Beaumont Hamel, in the Ancre region, extending over a front of three quarters of a mile, were captured.

South of the river Pys other trenches were taken, and the efforts of the Germans to recapture positions at Sailly Sallies failed.

Raids, bombardments and aerial activity are features of the war on the remainder of the line.

There has been considerable fighting in the Austro-Italian zone and also between the British and Turks in Mesopotamia.

The Austrians are reported to have entered the Italian trenches in the Gorizia sector, inflicting heavy casualties and capturing six hundred and sixty-five men, machine guns and other war material.

Rome admits the occupation of a small portion of the front line of trenches.

The British extended their line in Mesopotamia on a front of six thousand yards to a depth of a thousand yards.

The Germans were forced to evacuate Russian trenches captured near Stanislaw according to Petrograd.

Sunday's report shows one vessel was the victim of the submarine campaign, the British ship Salaga, of approximately four thousand tons.

BRYAN TO TOURISTS WHEN TWO THOUSAND GATHERED IN PARK

Fully two thousand persons gathered in the Royal Palm park yesterday as members of the tourist class of the Presbyterian Sunday school, and listened with much interest to the talk by Hon. William Jennings Bryan as he discoursed on the lesson for the day.

Mr. Bryan was introduced by W. S. Witham, of Atlanta, with appropriate words, at the conclusion of the singing of hymns in which the entire class joined. The singing was led by Miss Lulu Weathers, the responsive reading was conducted by E. W. Allen of Postoria, Ill., and prayer was offered by Dr. F. A. Wildman, assistant superintendent of the Sunday school.

As always, Mr. Bryan spoke in simple words that held his large audience motionless during the half hour of his talk, bringing out with force the truth that love is not only a restraining power but a compelling force, and the necessity of a new birth in the salvation of mankind.

Mr. Bryan will speak again next Sunday at 9:30 a. m., at the same place, and throughout the remainder of his stay in Miami will take part in the class meetings.

Another man of distinction, Howard Heinz, head of the great conserving company bearing his name, and chairman of the World's Sunday School committee, will also address the class next Sunday.

RUSSIA DISCOVERS GREAT ZINC DEPOSIT.

Petrograd, Feb. 11.—Gold, silver, zinc and lead mines in the Altai mountains which had been abandoned as exhausted, have been re-opened and found to still contain rich seams of minerals. Exploration of one mine indicates beds of 3,500,000 tons of zinc and lead with a considerable proportion of gold and silver.

Statement by the Government Indicates Troops are Close After the Rebels

Tampa, Feb. 11.—Police who, at the request of the management broke into the room of a leading hotel here, discovered the dead body of a man registered as H. B. Wheeler, of New York. He had registered in another hotel as H. B. Keeler, of New Orleans. A pistol was clasp in his right hand and a bullet wound was in his head. No inquest was deemed necessary.

MR. FISHER'S PLANS FOR A DEVELOPMENT IN ALTON BEACH

Carl G. Fisher is planning the development of an estate on a lot 137 1-2 by five hundred feet, just south of his home at Alton Beach, for which Architect Geiger will ask for bids today, and which will call for the expenditure of some twenty-five thousand dollars or more.

The dwelling will be made of hollow tile and be of English design with stucco finish, picked out in colors, and be two stories high. It will contain four bed rooms, a living room, dining room, breakfast room, screened porch, kitchen and pantry, baths and other conveniences.

The loggia, breakfast porch, screened porch and kitchen will be finished in Cuban tile.

A garage will be erected with two compartments for cars, and one for laundry, and sleeping compartments of four bed rooms will be provided on the second floor.

At the rear of the garage will be a latticed laundry yard, the lattice being intended to prevent clothes on the lines from being visible to passers by.

Grounds will be nicely laid out with walks and drives, sunken gardens and will contain a circular pergola.

Provisions will be made to store the rainwater falling on houses and garage, which will be clarified and used for laundry purposes.

Encircling the entire estate will be a handsome concrete fence with wooden panels. This fence will be relieved every twelve feet by columns, within which will be built-in lights. Entrance gates will be provided for pedestrians and vehicles.

Mr. Fisher has in mind the erection of a number of other buildings at Alton Beach, but the plans are not yet completed.

GERMAN PAID A HEAVY FINE

Zwickau, Germany, Feb. 11.—The record fine of nearly a quarter of a million marks has been levied on Ernest Goeldner, a manufacturer of Krimmitschau, for wrongfully using in his factory goods that had been confiscated by the government, and then for selling at more than the maximum price the goods manufactured from the illegal materials.

Goeldner put up a valiant defense, but his downfall in court came largely because his competitors, over whom he had held the whip handle while he had operated with confiscated materials, were on hand in force to rebut every piece of evidence he offered.

GERMANY BACKS DOWN

When Ambassador Refused to Sign Protocol and on News From United States

GERARD LEAVES BERLIN.

Berlin, Feb. 11.—Ambassador James W. Gerard, his embassy staff and one hundred and ten other Americans left Berlin, early Saturday night for Switzerland.

Copenhagen, Feb. 11.—That the German government's attitude in endeavoring to get Ambassador Gerard to sign a protocol re-affirming the old treaties with the United States regarding the mutual protection of citizens in case of hostilities, and hints of the possible detention of newspaper men as hostages, was undoubtedly influenced by alarmist dispatches from the United States regarding the treatment of German citizens and property there.

It is stated by a Berlin correspondent of the Associated Press, who has just arrived in Copenhagen that when Germany received assuring advices from the United States regarding the treatment of German citizens, and when it failed to get Ambassador Gerard to sign a protocol, it receded gracefully from its position.

Nothing further has been heard of retaining newspaper men as hostages. Ambassador Gerard's refusal to sign the protocol or to ask the United States for instructions, unless to use a private code, led Count Montegelas to hint that a refusal to sign the protocol might materially affect the status of Americans in Germany and mentioned, specifically, newspaper men.

This intimation of the possibility of detaining Americans, caused Ambassador Gerard to declare roundly that he would not be a party to "any such pressure."

He said that he doubted that the newspaper men could be "slandered" or influenced by considerations of personal safety or convenience.

As soon as authoritative information was received in Germany of the treatment of Germans in the United States, all efforts to accelerate Ambassador Gerard's departure were made. No further trouble in leaving Germany is expected.

AMBASSADOR GERARD ARRIVES IN SWITZERLAND.

Zurich, Switzerland, Feb. 11.—American Ambassador Gerard arrived at the Swiss boundary line this afternoon. He was met at Schaffhausen by the American minister to Switzerland, Pleasant A. Stovall and representatives of the Swiss army.

Gerard Goes To Berne Zurich, Feb. 11.—Ambassador Gerard left immediately for Berne, where he will remain several days.

CHAMPION WINS.

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 11.—James D. Harnett, Florida state champion, won the Gasparilla Golf championship, today, defeating Clarence Camp, of Ocala, two up and one to play.

THAT CUBAN REVOLUTION

Startling Discovery by the Police in a Leading Hotel of Tampa

Havana, Cuba, Feb. 11.—The government made a statement tonight that about thirty men of the seventh and eighth companies revolted and escaped with arms and troops are pursuing. At Canas, Havana Province, Commander Jose Castillo was killed by troops who were dispersing rebels. It was alleged Castillo led the uprising. Two groups of rebels in Santa Clara Province, where elections, were held February fourteenth, are being pursued by government forces.

SEMINOLES RETURN FROM WEST COAST WITH FOUR SCALPS

The victorious Seminole basketball club were met at the train last night on their return from the west coast of the state and escorted to Rector's cafe where a midnight lunch was served, and speeches full of enthusiasm were delivered.

R. B. Mulloy, captain, and one of the best forwards ever seen in action in Miami, gave the credit for the four straight victories over Tampa teams, to the guards and centers, but these young men would not have it so, and others as well declared they knew full well that Mulloy himself, and Davidson, during their stay of several days in Tampa, the Seminoles defeated the Tampa Y. M. C. A. five, forty four to twenty four, Ruskin college twenty seven to twenty two, Hillsboro High school thirty six to twelve, and Tampa Y. M. C. A. Imps thirty one to seventeen.

The latter organization which recently mopped up with nearly all the teams on the east coast of the state from Key West to Jacksonville, tasted defeat at the hands of the Seminoles in Miami.

The Seminoles were composed of the following players: Mulloy and Davidson, forwards; Swanson, center; Putnam and Carlin, guards; Harris and Mowat, substitutes.

The Seminoles left Miami with the chances somewhat against them because of the fact that two of their best players, Beal Siler, center, and Davies, guard, were unable to accompany them, and they were accordingly forced to put men in their lineup with whom they were unaccustomed to play.

But according to Captain Mulloy's statement last night, Swanson at center, was largely responsible for the victories to the credit of the Miami players, and the other second string men showed up equally as well, enabling the Seminoles to "bring home the bacon."

MRS. KITCHELL IMPROVING.

Mrs. George E. Kitchell, who was severely burned at her home last Thursday, and who was taken to the Florida East Coast railway hospital, continues to improve, according to the physicians at the hospital last night. Mrs. Kitchell was badly burned about the arms and body by an explosion of a gasoline stove.

To lessen scrub women's labors an inventor has patented a metal ring mounted on casters that can be clamped to the bottom of a pail to enable it to be moved about a floor.

AMERICANS WERE ABOARD THESE VESSELS

Incidents Showing That Day for Declaring War is Rapidly Approaching

Washington, Feb. 11.—Earl Rice, ship surgeon, an American of Portland, Oregon, was aboard the British India liner Mantola, when the ship was torpedoed without warning off the Irish coast, February 8, according to a cable message received by the state department from Consul Frost, at Queenstown.

All on board were saved except seven Lascars.

DID NOT SEE SUBMARINE FOR AN HOUR AND A HALF

London, Feb. 11.—Earl Rice, the only American abroad the Mantola, said that the seven Lascars were killed by the explosion.

No one saw the submarine until an hour and a half after entering the lifeboats. Wireless calls brought a submarine hurrying to the scene and firing a deck gun at the Mantola.

Forty-seven shots were fired, according to a passenger, who did the counting.

The arrival of a British sloop caused the submarine to submerge.

The passengers were taken aboard the sloop, having been in the lifeboats for six hours.

THIRTY-FIVE AMERICANS ABOARD JAPANESE PRINCE.

London, Feb. 11.—The British steamer Japanese Prince, with thirty-five American cattlemen aboard, was sunk by a German submarine without warning, according to dispatches to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

Many were injured by the explosion, but none of them fatally, and all were safely landed.

TWO MYSTERIOUS VESSELS APPEAR IN MID-OCEAN.

New York, Feb. 11.—Two mysterious vessels, a submarine and a tender or raider, are said to have been seen by passengers on the Kronland, which arrived, today, from Liverpool.

The vessels were sighted in mid-ocean, February 5. On February first the passengers witnessed the shelling and sinking of a Dutch freighter by a submarine, opposite Fastnet Light.

MAY FIND A WAY TO PROTECT OWNERS.

Washington, Feb. 11.—American shipowners, holding vessels because of inability to secure guns to arm for defense against submarines will probably have their difficulties solved in a few days.

YESTERDAY'S FIRE ALARM.

Fire early yesterday morning partially destroyed the home of J. T. Ross, on Fourth street, between avenues J and K. Ross told Chief Chase that he placed some water on an oil stove for the purpose of heating it in order to take a bath when flames from the stove ignited the kitchen walls.

Ross, who is slightly deaf, went out on his front porch to wait until the water became heated, and while sitting there discovered that his hair was burning. He failed to hear the crackling of the flames he said. When he discovered himself on fire, he gave an alarm.

The damage to the building was estimated by Chief Chase at about $200.

EVENTS

For Miami's Greatest Regatta Which Will Begin on Next Thursday

$5000 IN TROPHY CUPS

In Addition to Three Days' Program There Will Follow Long Distance Contests

The third annual regatta on Biscayne bay course is expected to be the most brilliant affair of the kind ever held in Florida, as arrangements have been made for the fastest express cruisers afloat and speed creations in the displacement boat class to compete, and owners from all over America are hastening to Miami to participate.

Over five thousand dollars in trophy cups have been hung up for the winners of the various events, and have been the means of inducing the most noted motor boat enthusiasts to take an active interest in the regatta.

Long Distance Races. Supplemental races over long distance courses have added greatly to the interest. One long distance race will be had each week following the regatta, as follows:

Thursday, February 22nd, at 9 a. m., from Miami to Nassau; Saturday, March 3rd 9 a. m., Miami to Key West; Saturday, March 10th 9 a. m., Miami to Palm Beach Pier Head; Saturday March 17th, 9 a. m., Key West to Miami; Saturday, March 24th, 9 a. m., Palm Beach Pier Head to Miami.

In the Air Also. Additional attractions have been provided, including aquaplane contests daily, races between Curtiss military tractors and flying boats, an attempt to lower the hydroplane speed records, effort to lower the airplane altitude record, and sensational performances in the air by Phil Rader, chief instructor of the Curtiss Aviation School here.

Other aviators who will take part include Glenn H. Curtiss, Roger Janus, Harold Kantner and W. A. Spratt.

Regatta Officials.

Officials are announced as follows: Rex W. Wadman, starter; Col. R. M. Thompson, John H. Hanan, Kirk Munroe, Charles W. Lee, Huston Wyeth, E. C. McGraw, Glenn H. Curtiss, Ralph Worthington, George W. Moore and E. G. Sewell judges.

The regatta committee responsible for the success of the event are: Carl G. Fisher, chairman; E. C. Romfh, Thomas J. Panceast, F. B. Shotts, S. Bobo Dean, W. N. Urme, E. B. Douglas, Captain Johnstone Quinan and Commodore Charles W. Kotener.

Three Days' Program.

The program of the regatta proper begins with an open displacement boat race over a fifteen mile course, beginning at 2 p. m., Thursday, February 15th, no handicap—qualifying speed twenty miles an hour.

An express cruiser race over a ten mile course will follow, at 2:45 a requirement of this event also, as with all others during the regatta, is the craft must develop a qualifying speed of twenty miles an hour, and be given no handicap.

The express cruiser event will be followed at 3:30 p. m. by an effort on the part of Glenn H. Curtiss to lower the existing hydroairplane record for speed.

Aquaplaning will bring the first day's program to an end. Fast cruisers will tow three aquaplanes, on each of which an aviator will endeavor to maintain his balance, the entrant maintaining his position the longest will be considered the winner.

Friday's program will open at 2 p. m., with an open displacement race over a ten mile course, and be followed at 2:45 by an express cruiser race over a fifteen mile course, after which will come speed trials for hydroairplanes, and aquaplaning contests.

The last day, Saturday, will be devoted to an open displacement boat race of twenty miles, beginning at 1:30 p. m., and a twenty mile express cruiser race of twenty miles, beginning at 2:30 p. m., with hydroairplane speed trials and aquaplaning as the closing numbers.

Altitude Flights.

Sandwiched in between and preceding the scheduled boat races and events already named will come a trial for altitude in a Curtiss military tractor, by Roger Janus, pilot, at 1:30 p. m., Thursday and Friday, and races between Curtiss flying boat and military tractor over a ten mile course, the flying machines being driven by Harold Kantner and Phil Rader.

On Saturday W. A. Spratt, air pilot, will make an attempt to establish a new altitude record at 1:30 p. m., and at 2:45 p. m. on Saturday Phil Rader will loop the loop and perform military tactics in the air, in one of the Curtiss military tractors.

The Peruvian government has appropriated $25,000 a year for the next three years for the establishment and maintenance of a civil and military aviation school at Lima.

A lecture on Christian Science by George Shaw Cook, C. S. The speaker was fittingly introduced by I. E. Wemple of 250 Thirteenth street, Miami, and, in part, spoke as follows:

Synopsis of Lecture.

A little more than half a century ago an earnest seeker for the path that leads heavenward—one who had long been buffeted by the unsatisfying philosophies of the human mind—was driven to the very borderland which takes away the sins and heals the sickness of the world. They were healed by reason of the knowledge that sickness is unnatural to God's law, and that therefore man need not endure it. They have found that the fear of evil is unnecessary, for the reason that every phase of evil is temporal and destructible.

Christian Scientists believe that they have demonstrated by results already attained that Mrs. Eddy has surely discovered and correctly set forth the Principle and law by which Jesus healed all manner of disease among the people of his time. Jesus said of his work, "I can of mine own self do nothing." "The Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works." The Father referred to by Jesus as being the Principle of his works was, according to Christian Science, the divine Mind. Jesus further said to his followers, "He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also."

Christian Scientists believe that all followers of Christ Jesus have a right to do these works. They believe that divine intelligence is as available to man now as it was in the time of Jesus, and that it manifests itself always through inviolable law. They are, however, sensible of the fact that they have only begun to understand and apply the Christ-metod of healing, and they do not pretend that they are always successful in its application. Yet they do know that Christian Science has already proved itself to be efficacious in the healing of many thousands of cases of disease, acute and chronic, functional and organic.

Putting Off the Old Man

Christian Scientists are proving step by step their ability to comply with the injunction of Paul to "put off the old man" (the mortal, material, sinful sense of man) and to "put on the new man" (the immortal, spiritual, sinless manhood), which "is created in righteousness and true holiness." In this endeavor they find that their success is in proportion to the faithfulness and persistence with which they return in thought to the fundamental fact which is the basis of all right thinking and living; namely, that God made all that is and pronounced it "very good." He made man in His likeness, and that nothing has since happened or will ever happen to unmake or undo God's perfect work. According to Christian Science, the putting on of immortality is not necessarily deferred until after passing through the experience called death, but may begin now, and must continue until the perfect recognition of the immortality and supremacy of Life displaces all belief in the existence of something which is the opposite of Life. This beginning is usually made as the result of a case of healing whereby the sufferer loses his sense of pain and disease and finds a sense of freedom and ease. Christian Scientists are grateful for the improved physical health and more harmonious surroundings which even a limited understanding of Christian Science has given them; but most of all they value the new and more abundant sense of Life which they have found in Christian Science.

Christian Science teaches that God is "of purer eyes than to behold evil," and that man as the likeness of God cannot know something which God does not know. It explains that evil is contrary to the will of God, who is always good, in purpose and in manifestation. Thus it induces the sinner to abandon his belief of satisfaction in sin and enables him to win forgiveness by forsaking sin. It is therefore a mistake to suppose that in teaching the unreal nature of sin Christian Science encourages the indulgence of sin. The fact is that it awakens the sinner to the absolute necessity of gaining a love for goodness that will enable him to abandon willingly not only the flagrant forms of immorality, but also the more subtle phases of evil.

Unreal Nature of Pain.

Because it has been made plain to Christian Scientists that pain is not a condition of matter, they have found Christian Science treatment to be more efficacious in relieving those who are suffering pain than any other method of treatment available to mankind. Even stubborn chronic cases have been relieved and cured in this manner after they had progressed to the stage where drugs and opiates are useless. The reason for the extraordinary power of Truth in Christian Science to alleviate and eradicate pain will become clear to all when it is generally understood that pain is mental and not physical. Pain has its only claim to existence in mortal thought. Ordinary experience shows that it is difficult to locate pain. Sense-impressions often seem to make pain appear to be where it is not.

Christian Science shows that pain is never in matter, but always in thought or in false belief. It also shows that the thought or belief in pain is never in the consciousness of truth, which constitutes the real man. The Christian Scientist when seeking to destroy pain at once begins to deal with causes instead of with effects. He immediately concludes that the pain itself, being an erroneous or abnormal mental state, must have resulted from some kind of erroneous thinking. He knows that every phase of mistaken or evil belief can be dispelled by right thinking. He recognizes that the pain and suffering seem to the victim thereof to be perfectly real, but when he banishes the sense of pain through his knowledge that God alone is cause, that only divine Mind and its manifestation is real, he proves that pain is not real. Its destruction demonstrates its unreality in a most practical and convincing manner.

Every Christian Scientist who has experienced the joy of going to the bedside of a suffering friend and lifting the burden of pain through a few words of compassion and courage and some quiet moments spent in the silent prayer of realization that there is no other power, presence or law than that of divine Truth, has brought into his own experience and that of his friend the fulfillment to some extent of the prophecy in Revelation (xxi. 4): "And there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away."

Cure of Disease and Death.

The teaching of Christian Science concerning the cause and cure of disease has to a great extent revised the world's thought on this subject. Many observing physicians are willing to admit much in the direction of the mental cause of disease; more, indeed, than the laymen who have less opportunity for observation. Christian Science goes beyond the most progressive physicians and declares that all disease is of mental origin. In so doing it does not contend that every form of disease is due to conscious fear or willful wrongdoing on the part of those who seem to be the victims of disease. It merely claims that somewhere back of all so-called abnormal or diseased physical conditions there are erroneous conditions of thought. According to Christian Science, disease is mental, the cause of disease is mental, and the process which removes the cause and changes the effect is mental or scientifically spiritual. Christian Science says that in order to effect a permanent cure, erroneous thought conditions must be corrected or removed by means of right thinking. It shows that fear is needless. In this way it removes fear. It shows that the so-called law of heredity and other cruel laws which claim to hold mortals in bondage and cause them to sicken and die, are not of God. It explains how these supposed laws may be rendered inoperative by the law of God, which in reality is the only law, and which is the law of health, life, harmony, and freedom. It does not matter how long a supposed law of the human or mortal mind may have been believed in; it is proved to be a law when set aside in a single instant. And it is safe to say that Christian Science practice has annulled every so-called law of health not only in one but in many instances.

Through overcoming those beliefs which ultimate in the experience called death Christian Science is gradually leading its students away from belief in death.

Christian Science Practice Not Mesmerism

Some who are not entirely familiar with the teaching of Christian Science believe that its practice consists in the effort of one person to benefit another person by exerting the influence which one human mentality is supposed to have over another. Starting with such a premise, it would be quite natural to conclude that Christian Science practice might be capable of resulting in evil if the practitioner should for any reason decide to use his mental influence to the detriment of his patient.

Such a premise as the one stated is, however, mistaken, and therefore the conclusion drawn from it must be and is incorrect. The fact is that Christian Science regards the so-called human or mortal mind as the cause of all discord, including disease, and regards the immortal or divine Mind as the only effectual healer of mortal discord. This fact may have been known to the psalmist, who sang of God as the one "who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases." Certainly the all-transforming and redeeming power of God was understood by Christ Jesus, for he healed every kind of sickness and sin among the people of his time. Never in any utterance of Jesus was there anything to indicate that he believed that his power to heal the sick and reform the sinner depended upon the exercise of human will. Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the toll, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative"; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

the gospels does not contain anything that could reasonably be construed to imply that he worked by means of what is known as the influence of one mind over another. On the contrary, everything recorded of his works by the authors of the four gospels tends to confirm the fact that Jesus brought about the destruction of evil in all of its forms by a faithful reliance on and intelligent application of the power of divine Mind. He prayed and taught his followers to pray, "Not my will, but thine, be done." So Christian Science emphasizes again and again the fact that there is no permanent deliverance from human ills save through the transforming power of divine Love. The action of divine Mind does not depend upon the exercise of human will, but subjugates and controls it. The truth which Jesus said shall make free often does and always should touch and transform the consciousness of the sufferer as gently as light comes into a dark room and dispels the darkness. On page 445 of Science and Health, Mrs. Eddy describes this process as "the unlabored motion of the divine energy in healing the sick."

No modern movement has so emphasized the importance of good works as the movement which has sprung from the discovery of Christian Science. Mrs. Eddy, its discoverer.

The Gypsy Drama-Pageant Auspices of Woman's Club Be Given Tomorrow Night

The Gypsy Drama-Pageant to be presented to the public by the Miami Woman's Club will be given tomorrow night, February 13th, 7:30 o'clock, at the Central School auditorium. Because of the threatened cold wave coming, which might make an out-of-doors performance impossible, it has been deemed wise to present the Pageant-drama in the auditorium, so that the audience may witness the scenes in comfort, and so that the performers will be able to do their work as creditably as possible.

The Bert Leigh Players have most generously offered to take charge of the stage management on Tuesday night, and are also giving their practical advice and assistance during the rehearsals.

As has been noted in these columns the drama—done in pantomime and tableaux interspersed and accompanied with appropriate music—is an adaptation of Longfellow's "Spanish Student." It is lively in action, with many comedy parts, to relieve the tragic episodes. The costumes will be both brilliant and picturesque, and fifty performers will be on the stage at one time. The Boy Scouts, the Camp-fire Girls and the seniors of the high school are assisting in the production, though the principal parts are in the hands of older and more experienced amateur actors.

Mr. Stambaugh, Mr. Higgins, and Mr. Soper have the parts of Victorian, the Spanish student, the young king Bartolome and the old king Cruzado. Mrs. Douglas, will appear as "Preciosa," the dancing girl of Madrid; Miss Mary Agnes Pope, as her sister, a Spanish lady of rank; Mrs. F. K. Ashworth as "Zuleika," an ambitious gypsy girl—later queen of the gypsies; Miss Taylor, as "Gammar," the gypsy nurse who stole the child Preciosa; and Miss Emma Smith is "Audrey"—a dear, good natured simpleton. Miss Becht, will give a Spanish dance, with the "Spanish Wedding Procession," in which will appear a score or more of beautifully dressed Spanish ladies of rank.

Appearing in the difficult acts are the "Girls of the Greenwood"—a band of gypsy singers, including Mrs. Hicks-Allen, Mrs. Putnam, Mrs. Lassiter, Mrs. Young, Mrs. O'Neil, Miss Hume and Miss Mann. In the first "Gypsy Procession" Mrs. Hicks-Allen as maid to "Zuleika" will sing Donizetti's "La Zingara" this scene closing with a lively chorus.

Following this is a series of six tableaux, giving a view of the six important characters of the play. Then the main acts of the drama begin. In the first act, Mrs. Putnam, Mrs. Lassiter and Miss Mann sing "Come Where My Caravan Has Rested." Mr. Higgins—as "Bartolome"—sings the "Gypsy Trail" by Galloway, and between this and the next act the Male Quartette, consisting of Mr. Oliver, Mr. Higgins, Mr. Smith and Mr. W. E. Brown will appear in Gypsy costume, and give Krug's "Gypsy Love." The next scene begins with a serenade "Gypsy Sweetheart" sung by Mr. Stambaugh, as "Victorian, the Spanish student." At the end of this act, after the conspiracy to drive the dancing girl out of Madrid, Mrs. Young will give Alvarez's "The Departure."

In the fourth act, in the gypsy forest the "Girls of the Greenwood" will sing Schumann's "Gypsy Life." At the beginning of the "Gypsy Triumphal Procession" in honor of the young queen "Zuleika," Mr. Smith will sing "Gypsy John."

Miss Edna Holmes will play the overture to the "Pirates of Penzance" as an introduction to the drama, and will accompany many of the acts with appropriate music. Mrs. Driesbach is accompanist for the songs, and Miss Highleyman will render two Spanish selections. Altogether, it will be seen, the music will be one of the strongest and most interesting features of the evening's entertainment.

The general public is urged to give this production a liberal patronage inasmuch as the proceeds go toward paying off the last note of indebtedness against the Woman's Club house.

PLEASANT SURPRISE FOR A WINTER GUEST AT HOTEL FRANCES

James Kinney, of Toulon, Ill., who is visiting the city for the season, was treated to a genuine surprise by the guests at the Hotel Frances Saturday night, anticipating his seventy-first birthday, which was yesterday.

Upon hearing that Mr. Kinney would be seventy-one years old his many friends in the hotel arranged for a very brilliant surprise in the nature of a card party while the lady guests at the hotel presented him with a beautiful book of birthday poems by Rudyard Kipling. Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Mitchell, of the hotel, arranged an elaborate luncheon consisting of punch and fruit and other eatables, while the hotel parlors were decorated especially for the occasion.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Moon and C. H. Oakley of Trenton, N. J., accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Moon of Philadelphia, arrived in their motor car Saturday for a lengthy stay in Miami. They are guests of the San Carlos hotel.

A motor party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Kimble and Mr. and Mrs. Grits of Davenport, Ia., Mr. and Mrs. O. Mosher and H. S. Mosher of Walnut, Ia., with Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Thompson, A. Charles Thompson, James Ingels of Toulon, Ill., and H. O. Parson of Chicago, arrived from Palm Beach Saturday for lunch at the San Carlos hotel. They returned to Palm Beach Saturday night.

W. S. Witham, better known as "Uncle Billy" visited Fort Lauderdale with a party of tourists from Miami yesterday morning. He will return here the middle of the month and stay with us a week or two. It is quite possible he may do some more building here this spring or summer. —Ft. Lauderdale Herald.

W. M. Featherly, editor of the Record, published at Harrison, Tenn., was in the city yesterday, viewing the great changes that time had made in this community since he was last here some years ago. Editor Featherly will be remembered by some of the early settlers in what was then Dade county as being the publisher of the Miami Metropolis when that paper was a weekly. There was scarce a landmark found in this city by him except the lake, "and that," he added, "has been so changed by the wonderful improvements upon either side that it does not appear natural." —West Palm Beach Tropical Sun.

The regular business meeting of the Daughters of the Confederacy will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon in Trinity Methodist church. A full attendance is requested.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Shotts of Miami and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Swarthout of Aurora, Ind., motored to Palm Beach yesterday, returning to Miami during the early evening.

Guy I. Metcalf, of West Palm Beach, was an arrival in Miami last night on his way to Homestead where he has landed interests. He is actively engaged as chairman of the athletic committee of the annual Seminole Sun Dance, at Palm Beach, and prophesies that this year's dance will be the greatest success of any given so far.

Mrs. Spencer said yesterday that the place has been visited by people from twenty-six different states and several foreign countries.

The top floor of the building is neatly furnished with an abundance of easy chairs, couches, tables and cribs for little children, while there are more than one hundred volumes of story books and magazines. More than five hundred women and children have visited the rest room since its opening.

DOWN AND OUT MAN TOLD HOW HE GOT RIGHT

Services in the Salvation Army hall, avenue D and Third street, last night, were somewhat out of the ordinary from the fact that two new recruits were enrolled into the local army corps, while testimonials were given by a number of the members who have been saved by this great Christian work.

The testimony of those at last night's meeting was such as to illustrate the good work of the religious band of soldiers which is openly engaged in a war against sin.

Incidentally, Adjutant Henderson told of his own conversion which was particularly interesting from the fact that it was a result of man's curiosity.

"I was at work on a building in Tampa," remarked the adjutant, "when one of my brother workmen came to me and remarked that he attended a religious meeting the night previous where they played that familiar piece of ragtime entitled: 'There'll be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight.'"

"I did not believe the statement and I told him so," continued the adjutant,

MOTHERS WHO GO THE GAITS OF SOCIETY

Rev. Dr. White Refers to Them in His Special Sermon on
"Prodigals"

LESSONS OF THE HOME

Husbands and Children Wrecked
By Influence of Wordly
Wives and Mothers

"The Prodigal Mother" was the subject of the second of the series of sermons which the Rev. Dr. J. L. White, pastor of the First Baptist Church, is preaching to his congregation. It was delivered last night.

"A good wife will be a good mother. A prodigal wife will be a prodigal mother. Wifehood and motherhood are inseparably linked and the disposition displayed toward the husband will be seen in the dealing with the child," said the pastor, who took for his text, I Kings 22:52: "And he did evil in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the way of his mother." "As water seeks its level, so life can rise no higher than its source," continued the pastor, who declared that the mother's character, with rare exception, decides the destiny of her children. "Napoleon was asked: 'What is France's greatest need?' 'Mothers!' was his striking reply. President Roosevelt's ringing words of warning to mothers also were fittingly spoken."

Continuing the discourse Dr. White said: "Henry W. Grady, the brilliant Georgia orator, tells us where he found the home of his country. As he stood in Washington and, looked upon the capitol for the first time, tears came into his eyes and he said to himself: 'Here is the home of my nation. That building is the official home of the greatest nation God's eyes ever saw.' A few weeks later, after spending a night in a north Georgia Christian home, where the old-fashioned father and mother gathered the household together, he said: 'I was mistaken in Washington. That pile of marble, magnificent as it is, is not the home of my country, but here in the Christian homes of my country are reared the men and women of my country.' Men and women are grown, not manufactured, and the home atmosphere decides their character."

"Dr. Theodore L. Cuyler said that in the seminary a group of 100 young preachers were asked to whom they were indebted for the strongest and most blessed influence in their lives. One hundred and fifty nine replied: 'Mother.' Moses and his mother are inseparable. The basket of bulrushes and Mount Pisgah show forth his mother's benign influence. Jacob and his mother are inseparable. The supplanter came honestly by his trickery. His mother was up to the highest and cleverest kind of cheating. Jacob never got over her influence until he wrestled all night with the mighty angel and went away limping, no longer Jacob, but Israel, a prince with God. No one thinks of John and Charles Wesley without thanking God for Susannah Wesley, their blessed mother."

"The world turns to the mother as an example of unwavering Christian faith, loyal devotion to religion and sacrifice unto death. Whatever lessens the mother's faith, weakens her loyalty or makes her selfish is a blight, a curse to our common humanity."

"There are tendencies which women who love home and native land should avoid—tendencies which weaken the sacred home ties and often break the holy relation."

Causes of Divorce
"Marriage is not a failure, but it often fails to produce happiness. The frequent divorces are alarming and point a moral. It is easier to secure a divorce in this country than in any other Christian country in the world. In this country there are 292 courts possessed of power to grant divorce, as against one in England, 28 in Germany, and 79 in France. The ease with which divorces are secured in this country is demoralizing. But there are deeper reasons for the increasing discontent of married persons."

"Mrs. Anna Rogers, in the Atlantic Monthly, gives three reasons or causes: 1. Woman's failure to realize that marriage is her work in the world. 2. Her growing individualism. 3. Her lost art of giving instead of who she wishes always to take. She ably argued that marriage is woman's duty. Man has other work and much of it, but that woman's distinguishing work is to make a home in the full sense of that term. 'Only as a woman,' says Mrs. Rogers, 'with all that entails upon her, is she alone pre-eminent, unapproachable. And yet today her whole energy is bent upon dethroning herself.'"

"Women are growing more and more averse to marrying, because of the burdens it entails and its responsibility. Such soberness of life is not so readily sought in this easy-going, pleasure-loving age."

"The new woman's individualism is almost proverbial. Mrs. Rogers says that the refrain is 'My sweet, my own myself.' While the ego is largely knocked out of man by hard work, selfishness is apt to grow apace with the more idle woman of today, whose education is indiscriminate and undigested. Mrs. Rogers may be a little hard upon the 'new woman,' but she gives food for reflection."

Too Many Social Demands
"Social demands, or customs which have become demands, take too much of the mother's time. Social functions are numerous. During the season it is perpetual motion among the social set. Women's clubs are almost as numerous as the stars and the blessed women attend until they have no nervous force left for home duties. The house is a place to stop at, and not a home to live in. The husband and sons call the spirit and they go and keep on going.

"An old-fashioned woman is hard to find any more. The like of the great-grandmothers has passed away. What a loss! Those dear old souls were women. They raised men. They had all of the accomplishments and broader culture of the modern woman, without the social dissipation. The supreme joy of dear old grandmothers and many of our mothers was to hear the coo of baby and to watch the growing intelligence of the precious child. Those were great women. Now, alas! Many had rather get a pebble dog!"

"Modern life is producing drunkards among the women. This is hard to say, but it is a fact. And it is a shame on men who go with girls and women to clubs or elsewhere to drink wine and strong drinks. No woman under the influence of strong drink is safe."

"Apart from the personal loss which women suffer through the modern tendencies toward prodigality, two direful results must be mentioned. First, such a life on the part of mothers destroys their sons' interest in religion. It is well known that our young men are not too religious. More—many have little respect for Christianity and seldom attend church."

"Second, Many husbands and sons are wrecked morally by the influence of wordly wives and mothers. I could give many illustrations which have come under my personal knowledge, but let one suffice."

Story of Worthy Woman
"In a Georgia city, a lady sought an interview with me at the close of a morning service. She said: 'I have a sad story to tell you which I want you to repeat as often as possible. It may warn some young wife not to do as I have done. I married, she continued, 'a young lawyer in this city some sixteen years ago. He was a devout Christian at the time of our marriage. I was a church member, but wordly, a card-player, dancer, and theater-goer. My husband was opposed to all such wordly amusements. The night of our marriage I said: 'My dear, I want to tell you now that you are going to dance play cards, and go to the theater with me.' He asked, imploringly, 'Do you mean it?' 'Indeed I do.' 'Then God have mercy on us,' were his pathetic words. We went the gait together.' For a time she was silent and buried her face in her hands, weeping. Then she broke forth in a wail of despair, saying: 'Today he is a drunkard and a gambler, and I have caused it all.'"

"Good women, don't take the risk of corrupting the lives of your husbands and sons by going the gaits of modern life."

A French inventor claims to have invented a perfectly stable aeroplane through the use of seven planes on the machine.

CLEARING THE CONSCIENCE

While the support of the president by the entire country, in the emergency presented by foreign complications, was to have been expected, yet the wholehearted, unanimous declaration by the people of approval of the president in his breaking off all diplomatic relations with Germany, is refreshing, and revives the belief that the American people are a unit and that they are intensely patriotic.

The reason for this revived feeling of patriotism, for this arousing of loyalty, this satisfaction that at last the president has spoken in terms that cannot be and are not mistaken, is not far to seek.

Throughout all this war, there has been the subconscious feeling among Americans that we were not doing our part. There has been the belief that our neutrality was one brought about by expediency, by a technical regard for international law, that we have rested rather on the wording of the law than its spirit.

Underneath everything that has occurred has been in the deep down feeling, shared by native born and by naturalized citizen, that this great republic, this great democracy, was not doing its full duty in the struggle that is to determine whether democracy or monarchy shall rule in the world.

It has not been a pleasant feeling to us. Our sympathies, all of them, have gone out to those who have been ground under the heel of despotism and we have been conscious of a guilty feeling when we have been accused of shirking our responsibilities as a democratic people.

We sympathized with Belgium and have succored that down trodden country, but we did not protest its invasion. We believe in the democracy of France, but we have not said to them, as they once did to us, "we are with you." We know that the allies are fighting our battles, that their success means our freedom from aggression, but we have not aided them in the struggle, taking pay for the things we have furnished them, which things we would as readily have supplied their enemies if it had been possible to do so.

And in all this, the American conscience has not been easy. We have, perhaps hardly known to ourselves, been shamefaced and ashamed as we confronted actual conditions.

But now the president of the United States has voiced the feelings, the true feelings of all Americans, and we stand vindicated in our own consciences. We are freer and nobler for the action he has taken, and in the rallying to him of every element in the broad land of ours. We can now stand upright as men breathing freely the air of liberty, we are no longer truckling to any power on earth.

If the affair proceeds no further, if there is no war, this country will have asserted itself, it will have declared to the nations of the earth that this is a self respecting democracy, and that we feel for and will support the democracies of the earth in their attempts to conquer autocracy. In that much, the American conscience has been freed from the doubts that have assailed it for the past two years and a half.

THE BEST TRIBUTE TO LINCOLN.

Dr. John Wesley Hill, chancellor of the Lincoln Memorial university at Cumberland Gap, in an address last night on Lincoln, paid a tribute to the martyred president worth remembering, and incidentally gave some sound advice on a present situation when he said:

Could Lincoln—slandered, maligned, criticized, assailed and assassinated—have heard the faintest echo of the tumultuous applause that now greets his name, the prolonged night through which he passed would not have been starless. Could McKinley have heard the agonizing groans of the nation above his coffin dust, his heart would have been strengthened during the burdensome days of the Spanish-American war. There is another in our midst today, standing at the center of a world crisis. Great interests and issues are revolving about him. The destiny of the nation is in his hands. His burden is as great as any ever imposed upon mortal man. Yet in the midst of the tumult, he is working so silently that we are scarcely conscious of his presence. Power is always silent. At such a time as this, partisanship should disappear, patriotism should occupy the foreground, and every man who loves the flag and who believes in the protection of American rights and the preservation of our national self-respect, owes it to his citizenship to stand loyally by the president, to uphold his hands, and thus to contribute to the solution of the great problems which confront him. This loyalty to his successor will be our best tribute to Abraham Lincoln.

The Herald would be glad to have Colonel Honse's opinion of the war situation, if he could confine his remarks to about five thousand words.

The boy who is now seventeen years of age might as well look forward to six months army service two years from now.

AN IMPORTANT PILGRIMAGE.

One week from today it is expected that the members of the state legislature, or at least a very large majority of the membership, will arrive at Ft. Lauderdale for the purpose of making a pilgrimage into the Everglades, which is to take some four or five days, it is estimated by the committee having the affair in charge.

This will be one of the most important movements yet undertaken with regard to the development of the Everglades.

This state and the great project, itself, have both suffered from the fact that the various legislatures that have met since the year 1904, have been in the utmost darkness with regard to the Everglades, their prospects and their possibilities. Very few members of that body have ever taken the trouble to make a personal examination of the territory and, hence, there has been a woeful lack of information on the part of those called upon to legislate on behalf of the state and of the drainage.

The proposition to bring the many members of the legislature to the section, was received when first made, with enthusiasm, as being one that would go very far toward solving some of the difficulties in the way of the important enterprise, providing always, that the members of the legislature could be induced to make a trip which would take them to the very center of things and which would give them ample opportunity to see all that has been done to form some idea as to what is needed to be done before the state can possibly begin to reap the advantages arising from the drained Everglades.

The pilgrimage will be of practical benefit, for it is not conceivable that an intelligent legislator can visit the Everglades and not be impressed with the greatness of the project to drain them, and the necessity for some definite and practical plan to be devised by the state and put into execution by the commonwealth looking toward the development of the great area.

Personal examination will do more to convince the legislator than all the pamphlets and speeches that could be printed or delivered, and hence the proposition to bring the legislature here is of the utmost practical importance, not only to this section but to the whole state.

It goes without saying, that when these gentlemen reach Miami they will be treated with all the courtesy and consideration for which Miami has become famous. They will be our guests for the time being, and will receive all the hospitality due to guests, without reference to whether they fully agree with us or not, on the main points of the excursion.

MILITARY TRAINING IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

"Military training in the schools conceived as military drilling is undesirable and unavailing; military training conceived as a comprehensive program of physical, moral and civic education is desirable and even necessary," declared Dr. W. S. Small in a chapter on educational hygiene in the annual report of the commissioner of education, department of the interior.

Dr. Small points out that military training thus conceived "offers a possibility of unifying and ennobling the now confused and disjointed activities in the field of physical and moral discipline. The physical and moral values of both gymnastics and athletics are well understood, but both lack comprehensive and unifying motive. All systems of gymnastics are individualistic. Their appeal is to the desire of the individual for physical perfection. Competition is narrowly individualistic. Systems of athletics are mostly based upon group competitions, and if properly managed are very valuable, not only for physical development but also for training in the very fundamentals of social morality. But the philosophy of athletics is the philosophy of play, and the philosophy of play is the philosophy of instinct—a philosophy that is not comprehensive enough to serve as a sole basis of physical and moral education. Military training rightly conceived includes these motives and subordinates them to the ideal of patriotism."

The report describes and discusses the so-called "Wyoming plan" originated by Capt. E. Z. Steever, U. S. A., outlines the plans of the New York military commission in relation to physical training, and analyzes the relation of military training to school organization, concluding that "military training in the strict and technical sense will not be grafted upon the schools, but military training in the sense of a comprehensive program for physical, moral, and civic education in which some appropriate military affairs may be included is likely to find its way into all schools."

OPEN UP HALLS AND CHURCHES.

Under the extraordinary pressure brought about by the great influx of winter visitors, it is becoming more and more necessary that this city furnish accommodations for at least one night's lodging for those who come without having made previous arrangements.

There are a number of lodge rooms and churches that could be used to give many people opportunity for one night of reasonable comfort, instead of the prospect of being compelled to roam the streets looking for shelter.

It need not shock anyone, the proposition to open the churches as temporary lodging houses. It has been done before, even the chapel at Palm Beach having been more than once used as overflow lodging house in time of need.

Every hall that has a bench, every church that has a pew ought to be placed at the service of the multitude of people who are flocking to the city, very many of whom suffer inconvenience, to say the least of it, from the lack of accommodations for shelter.

Nothing of Importance Occurred on the Battle Fronts—Newspaper headline. Nothing of importance except a few thousand men killed, a few thousand widows made, a few thousand children orphaned, nothing of importance!

And now little Cuba is getting the rabbit and wants to stir up a fuss. Somewhere there is a little document that would make it imperative for Uncle Sam to take over that island, if it cannot get along without too much internal dissension.

OBSERVATIONS

That leak investigation seems to have leaked out.

It is said there are over five hundred Kansans living in and around this city. Doubtless, if the proper missionary effort is put forth, they may all be made over into loyal Mi-amians and good democrats.

Now is the time for all unbusy men to gather on the street corner and settle just what we ought to do in this crisis.

A manufacturer of motorboat engines who attended the regatta made this prediction: "Florida is destined to be the world's winter sporting center. If present plans are carried out next year will find more than one hundred motorboats racing in Florida waters and the automobile manufacturers of the world sending their best cars to the state. In brief, ten years will find the world wintering in Florida if Florida can accommodate them."

SUNDAY SCHOOLS WELL ATTENDED ON RALLY DAY

Miami Joined to Some Extent in General State Movement for Members

"Go to Sunday School Day" was observed yesterday at various Miami Sunday schools in different ways, and by some not at all, the superintendents of the latter centering that every Sunday is "Go to Sunday School Day" with them.

At noon there a special program given by the classes, but the spirit of the occasion was more or less apparent at all, and the importance of the Sunday school in the training of children for lives of usefulness on earth and for the hereafter was felt and made manifest everywhere.

The White Temple Methodist Sunday school rooms were decorated with flags, but beyond this there was nothing out of the ordinary to indicate that yesterday was different from other Sundays, for as Rev. R. N. Merrill, the pastor of the church said, "There are fifty-two 'Go to Sunday School Days' in the year at the White Temple."

However, the school was addressed by C. E. Welch, president of the Welch Grape Juice Company, one of the most prominent laymen in the northern branch of the church and prominent in the Sunday school work of his denomination.

Mr. Welch told of his Sunday school work at Westfield, N. J., and commented favorably on the growth of the White Temple Sunday school during the three years since he last visited it in a little room in the old building.

He also spoke of the spread of prohibition in the United States and prophesied that within a few years every state in the union will be in the dry column, and also touched on the present international crisis and the universal desire of Americans for peace, provided that peace can be had with honor and the full duty of the people to their government.

The attendance at the White Temple Sunday school was normal there being about five hundred present.

The Presbyterians observed the occasion more at church than in the Sunday school, and the pastor, Rev. W. W. Faris, D.D., spoke on the subject, "The Human Key," along the lines of Sunday school work, and the prayerful home where children are started in the life they should lead. The Sunday school, he said, is the training school, and also plays a very important part in their christian development. During the evening Rev. C. L. Nisbet, associate pastor, spoke on "The Strong Arm of the Church," dwelling also on the importance of the Sunday school in teaching children the beauty of a christian life.

Owing to the fact that the Baptist Sunday school is being reorganized,

MEET TONIGHT TO CONSIDER GREAT NEED

Chamber of Commerce Movement to Secure More Hotels and Apartment Houses

EVERYBODY IS INVITED

To Join in the Discussion—Will Also Plan for Longer Tourist Season

At the membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce tonight, to which non-members are also invited, the principal topic for discussion will be the urgent need of more hotels and apartment houses in Miami, which President E. G. Sewell commented on with considerable earnestness in conversation with a reporter.

"We need three or four large hotels and apartment houses, including an apartment house with one room apartments only," he said. "We could use five hotels of five hundred rooms each."

Mr. Sewell added that it is "just like turning business away from your door, to let a man get away from Miami who wants to stay here."

He declared that it is everybody's business to come to the meeting and take part in the discussion, and perhaps to suggest a remedy for the present condition of congestion.

He continued further than Miami needs both high grade and medium priced hotels, to take care of all classes of people who might want to come here next winter, and everyone should try to interest capital to build them.

President Sewell added that he is trying to lengthen the tourist season, and with that end in view has consulted with railway officials and hotel men, and he and others interested have decided to begin their campaign at once.

Cards announcing that the hotels will open next year a month in advance of previous years will be posted in all hotels, and during the early autumn northern papers and magazines will carry advertisements to that effect.

Palm Beach, Ormond, Daytona and St. Augustine will be solicited to join in the movement, that all may profit by the lengthened season, it being Mr. Sewell's belief that what is beneficial to one town is beneficial to all.

Among the railway men seen who agreed to co-operate with the Miami Chamber of Commerce is W. W. Richardson, general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania Lines, who was enthusiastic and declared he will do all he can to insure the success of the movement.

It has been arranged for the hotel and apartment house men of Miami to meet at the Chamber of Commerce rooms tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock to consider the movement for lengthening of the season.

LINCOLN DAY BE OBSERVED IN THIS CITY

Opening Exercises in Public Schools—Banquet at the C. J. Rose Apartments

Today—the one hundred and eighth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, the sixteenth president of the United States—will be observed in the public schools of Dade county in the same manner that the birthday of Robert E. Lee, the great southern leader, is observed—with fitting ceremony, which will include patriotic speeches and historical addresses and readings.

Each individual room in all the schools will devote half an hour at the opening of the schools to addresses and to readings pertaining to the great Kentuckian, who was born in Larue, now Hardin, county, on the 12th day of February 1809.

The history lessons for the day will also be chosen from the period of Lincoln's activity in politics and as president of the nation, preceding and during the war between the states.

Rose Apartments.
So far as learned the celebration at the schools will be the only observance of the occasion in the county, with the one exception of suitable ceremonies at the Rose apartments, avenue B, between Fourth and Fifth streets, owned by Charles J. Rose, a veteran of the northern armies.

Mr. Rose has decorated his building with flags and bunting and has placed conspicuously a large picture of the Martyred President.

During the evening a banquet will be given at the apartment house, at the conclusion of which addresses will be delivered by various guests from the several states, and musical numbers will also be included.

The musical program will be under the direction of Dr. Buchtel of Auburn, Indiana. Frank Baker, president of the North Miami Improvement association, will preside.

WILLING TO LIVE AFTER TRYING TO COMMIT SUICIDE

Apparently satisfied that life is well worth while after all, Joseph Melle, who attempted suicide by taking poison on the steps of the bank of Bay Biscayne Saturday afternoon, was able to leave the city hospital yesterday morning.

Melle, who is a foreigner, would assign no reason for his rash act yesterday aside from the fact, indicated by his letter, that he was tired of life. He took enough of the poison to kill a dozen men, the authorities of the hospital said yesterday. The man did not seem inclined to repeat the act when he left the institution. As a matter of fact he said that he would try and make the best of conditions in the future.

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" ends all stomach distress in five minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Pape, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

FOR SELLING LIQUOR.

Plainclothesmen Bishop and Curry, early yesterday morning, arrested Alfred Sweeting, colored, on a charge of selling liquor unlawfully. The police found a gallon of Railroad Special in Sweeting's possession.

SAID HE WAS ROBBED.

J. S. Marchbanks reported to the police that he was robbed Saturday night of a purse containing about $20 in cash. The money was taken from his pocket in a Twelfth Street store, Marchbanks said.

DOWN AND OUT MAN TOLD HOW

"but he insisted that it was true and told me that if I did not believe him he would take me there and I could hear it."

"Quite naturally my curiosity was aroused, for men have curiosity as well as women, and so I started to find out for myself."

"And I did find out. I found out that salvation is the best thing in the world."

There were interesting testimonials from members of the army who claimed that it was this great work which brought them to Christ.

Probably the most interesting talk was made by Charles Nelson one of the two who joined the army corps last night. Five weeks ago, Nelson said he sat in the army hall in this city when he was moved to give himself up to God. "I was down and out and without a friend in the world," said Nelson, who stated that he at first wanted to go forward and ask forgiveness for his sins, but felt that something was holding him back.

"Finally," said he, "I broke away and am now glad to say that I have been saved. One of my fears seemed to be that somebody might laugh at me," continued Nelson, who declared that he has at least found salvation and is going to stick to it.

The other recruit who allied himself with the army last night was Harry Gregory, a young man of this city, who declared that he was glad to start in right.

The two recruits were stationed on the platform and beneath the national flag took the oath of allegiance to the salvation army.

Captain Hazelaar followed with a sermon entitled, "You Must Meet God, but How?"

HIGH SCHOOL GIRL

Run-down, Weak and Nervous—Made Strong By Vinol

For the benefit of Miami school girls who overwork and get into highly nervous, weak and run-down condition, we publish this letter from Dorris Coplier, of North Worth, Tex. "I go to the high school and take music lessons, and became run-down, weak and very nervous, so I could not do anything. I would shake all over and could have screamed at times, and was really unfit to keep on with my studies. Mother purchased a bottle of Vinol for me and within a week I was better, and in two weeks I had gained five pounds and felt fine."

It is the curative, strengthening elements of beer and cod liver peptones, aided by the blood-making, revitalizing effect of iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates, contained in Vinol, which made it so successful in building up health and strength and overcoming the nervous condition of Miss Coplier, and we ask every school girl in Miami who is in a like condition to try Vinol, on our guarantee to return their money if it fails to benefit.

SWIMMER MAY BE IN MIAMI NEXT SUMMER

Champion of World on Long Distance Stunts Was Visitor Here Saturday

Henry Eliensky, champion long distance swimmer of the world and champion freak swimmer, was a visitor in Miami Saturday night. He came to Miami to try and line up affairs for a season's stay here next year. He is staying at Palm Beach this year, as he has for the past several years.

Eliensky is called "commodore" by his friends, because of the fact that he is commodore of seven life saving organizations.

Among his achievements was a swim of sixty-five miles which gave him the title of long distance swimmer of the world, a swim around Manhattan island, a distance of forty miles, with hands and feet shackled.

When he made the swim around Manhattan he was accompanied by his seventeen year old sister, Ida, who swam with limbs free the entire distance, giving her the right to the title of long distance woman swimmer of the world.

Eliensky also swam from the Battery, New York, to Coney Island with hands and feet tied, ten miles with a couple of men strapped to his back, and with hands and feet tied he towed a boat containing thirty men ten miles. He also swam ten miles in a straight jacket with fifteen feet of chain around his legs, and bound and shackled in the same manner he swam through Hell Gate, and also swam through Hell Gate in a sack which was tied with thirty feet of rope.

In order to convince the world that it was not brute strength that was responsible for his achievements, he taught his sister to perform similar feats, and last summer she swam three miles in East River, New York, with Henry strapped to her back. She was then scarcely seventeen years old.

"It isn't brute strength," Eliensky declared Saturday night. "Swimming is in the head."

He plans to swim from Albany to the Battery, a distance of one hundred miles, next summer, and also to swim through the Niagara rapids, and if he can secure the use of a submarine will undertake to swim several miles and tow it. He declared that once the submarine was started, it would be no difficult matter for him to tow it along at a rate of a mile an hour.

NICE PROFITS ON RIVERSIDE HEIGHTS LOTS

Bought More of Them and Says Is in No Hurry to Sell

There are few shrewder real estate operators in Miami than John J. Weaver, who has been buying and selling property in Miami for a number of years and has made considerable money by this method.

Two years ago Mr. Weaver purchased a block in Riverside Heights and sold it at retail on the payment plan and realized a handsome profit.

"Yes, my deal in Riverside Heights was a very good one," said Mr. Weaver a few days ago, while discussing real estate in Miami in a general way.

"I had no trouble in selling the lots in the block I bought and at a good profit. They were all sold in a few months and those who bought them have kept up their payments and are all well satisfied with their purchases.

"Since then I have picked up a few lots in the Heights and some of my friends also have a few and we consider them an excellent investment and we are in no hurry to dispose of them, although we could do so with a profit.

"The great amount of building development work done by the Tatum during the past year has increased the value of every lot in the subdivision and at the prices asked by the company they are very reasonable and I expect to see them all sold out before the end of the season.

"With the amount of building being done in Riverside and especially in the Heights, property in that section is bound to be enhanced in value and being so close in and with good street car facilities and every convenience and improvement no mistake can be made in buying lots there now."

Ruins As Ancient As Those of Babylon and Nineveh To Be Seen in New Mexico - Relics of the Stone Age Now Being Unearthed.

Copyright, 1917, by The International Syndicate.

AMERICA has been regarded as a new country discovered a few centuries ago, as a vast territory of waste land stretching over thousands of miles east and west and north and south, inhabited by bands of indolent and savage Indians. But the area west of the Mississippi is still younger in the annals of history as little was known about it even a hundred years ago, and yet as the searching and scrutinizing eye of science has explored the deserts and the ravines of our great Southwest unmistakable evidences of the existence of a race or races of people have been discovered which convince us that perhaps whilst Greece and Rome and Egypt and Assyria were working out their problems toward progress and civilization there dwelt in southwestern United States a people who have left traces of a civilization as far advanced as their contemporaries in the old countries, and who knew how to provide for their needs and comforts by ways and means superior to those in the countries of Biblical history. And yet this strange people is no more, having left almost buried amid the rocks and sands of ages the marks of their existence from which the scientists will be able to build an authentic theory of their manners and customs and the degree of civilization they reached at a period perhaps as remote as the wanderings of Abraham on the plains of Mesopotamia.

A number of homes occupied by these people are still extant in a valley and plateau near Santa Fe, New Mexico, where the remarkable stone tents are to be found, cliff houses once inhabited by people who knew how to fashion the most beautiful pottery, and how to weave cloth, and who lived in communities—the latter being proven by the number of rooms in each cave or stone tent. They even buried their dead in the far back chambers of their cliff homes. Only a few years ago the archaeologists who were exploring the ruins came upon the body of a woman garbed in a curious woven cloth like burlap and heaver skin. How long the body had been buried in its cave grave no one may even conjecture, and the scientists' guesses vary all the way from 8,000 B. C. to 400 A. D.

Whether these people lived entirely in the stone tents or whether they spent a part of the time on the plateau above is a question. However, their agricultural pursuits must have been carried out on the plateau as there were evidences of irrigation in this section long before the work was taken up by the United States Government. The cement or clay used by the ancient people is of a kind that is most difficult to destroy, it being far more durable than that used in the present day. That they went to and from the cliffs is evidenced by the worn trail which leads to the stone tent city. None of the Indians who live in the vicinity know anything of the trail except that it "has always been there." The same is said of the pictographs painted on the rocks. They have always been there, and the Indians do not understand them any better than the archaeologists who are endeavoring to fit things together and at least learn a part of the history of this strange race who disappeared from earth in some prehistoric time.

One might wander for months in the Rito de los Frijoles canyon and find a different kind of cave each day with different decoration.

Ceremonial Cave.

There is a high arched cave hundreds of feet up the side of the canyon which is known as the "Ceremonial Cave." This particular ruin has been in a measure restored. This restoration means digging out the earth that has been washed into the cave for thousands of years. All the caves were at one time plastered in a sort of adobe stucco, and when this is reached and the wooden beams of the arched ceiling found the restoration ends. It is the aim of the scientists to put the caves in the same condition as when they were inhabited. The floors are covered with a sort of cement and it is necessary to dig down several feet before the real floor is found. It was during this digging that many excellent specimens of pottery were found.

At another place there is a cave containing a large number of rooms. Over the entrance and around the roof is the painting of a huge plumed serpent. The scientists are of the opinion that the serpent was regarded as the guardian of the pools and springs, and for this reason the men who cared for the water supply used the emblem over their home. This cave contains fireplaces which may have been for the sacred fires regarded by the ancients with such veneration. There are, urns for meal and water, and stones upon which the corn was ground.

Stone Tents.

Any number of smaller canyons exist in this section and in these some of the most interesting caves exist. They are found in clusters and at two general levels; that is, at the top of a long, steep slope of the talus and exceedingly difficult of access. About half a mile up the Otowi Canyon is a cliff village unlike any other in the world. It is a cluster of conical formations of white stone some of which are thirty feet in height. They are known as the "Tent Rocks" and are full of caves, both natural and artificial, which have been utilized as human habitations. That the dwellers at this point were contemporaries of those in the larger canyons is shown by the fact that the pictographs on the rocks are of the same style. At a distance these queer rocks resemble huge beehives. Some of the residents even built porches over the doorways of their rocky homes. The usual kiva or ceremonial chamber has been unearthed in many of the ruins and it is not unlike that found in the cliff houses at Mesa Verde Park, in Southwestern Colorado, although the cliff houses at this point were built in sides of the canyon and not formed by Nature as those of the stone tents. These cliff homes were used to house goats and sheep during the Spanish regime, and later, after the Civil War, horse thieves and outlaws held sway over the place.

But the stone tents and caves are not the only thing of interest in this section for the floor of the valley contains the ruins of a number of pueblos, especially on the Pajarito Plateau. These pueblo structures are invariably a cluster of rooms or cells. There are numerous variations of extension and arrangement. The smaller structures were but one story in height, while the larger ones were from two to four stories, although none were as large as those of Taos.

Puye Village Large.

The cliff village at Puye must have been an extensive one. The mesa is a mile and a quarter in length and nearly all of the south face is honey-combed with dwellings. A ledge midway up the cliff divides it into two parts. Dwellings are both above and below the ledge. While the most of these are still unrestored the traveler who will make the difficult climb to them will be amply repaid for his trouble, as there are many evidences of the customs of the pre-historic race.

The visitor who studies this ruin carefully will soon discover that one of these places well provisioned and with weapons of defense, would be well-nigh impregnable, and one can imagine what a splendid rendezvous such a place would be for snipers with bows and arrows.

Tshirege was the largest of the cliff villages in this section and the community house was unusually large. It has ten kivas of the circular subterranean type. The cliff villages in the sides of the rock show remarkable decoration and the pictographs, or petroglyphs as they are sometimes called, are the most serious work of their kind found in New Mexico, for while a few of them represent nothing more than idle picture-making the most of them are of a serious totemic, legendary and religious significance.

Painted Cave.

Another ruin known as the "Painted Cave," the pictographs represent some of the well-known symbols of the pueblos, such as clouds, sheet lightning, the sun dancing shields and male and female dancers. While the execution is very crude the scientists have woven a certain legend about the paintings which show the trend of the ancient people to use certain things as symbols in their mode of living. Bits of sculpture have also been found, although some of it is said to be the work of the ancestors of the Indians who inhabit New Mexico today. It takes a stretch of imagination to make the layman believe that two rudely cut stones were made to represent stone lions or panthers, although the archaeologists are able to trace them out perfectly. This is supposed to be the emblem of a tribe of pre-historic hunters.

It is said that when these people were about to abandon their cliff homes it was customary to paint or carve a series of symbols in some secluded spot near the site of their homes, which seems to account for the curious pictographs and sculpture hidden away in the smaller canyons.

Knowledge Of Colors.

These aboriginal painters had considerable knowledge of color and handled them with good effect, especially in the decoration of their pottery. Yellow and gray were always decorated with black lines. Red ware was almost invariably decorated with black and red lines. Four shades of red were used, two shades of this color being frequently applied to the same bowl. The ornamentation of the pottery was bold and striking.

Prayer feathers are frequently discovered in the rear of the caves. Bones fashioned into tools and pieces of cloth made from yucca fibres are in all the caves of the ruins in New Mexico. Every dwelling had its metate or grinding stone, and in many of them dried corn and the seeds of the squash and gourd have been found. Water jars and urns have been found intact. That there was a certain kind of communal at the time is shown by the number of kivas even in the caves. That they knew how to conserve their water supply is proven by the number of reservoirs found in the vicinity. Year after year the archaeologists work amid these ruins of ages ago endeavoring to learn the full history of this race of men who lived in these queer stone tents in the dim and distant long ago.

DIXIE HIGHWAY TRACT—To those residing permanently in Miami and who desire a home in the future, J. A. Gates & Son have a message: We have formulated a plan whereby we can greatly reduce the price of our estate, to those who are willing to accept it. We are now offering the best of our real estate to be more enjoyable and satisfactory to those engaged in the traffic. We purpose to sell lots in a tract by employing hired salesmen just as a merchant sells goods in his store by clerks in his employ. Partially improved lots are being offered for sale, now being offered, will be shown over the tract by our salesmen. A tag bearing the lot and block number and price of lot is attached to a stake placed in front of each lot, to be detached by purchaser and presented at office of tract owner, where papers in settlement will be drawn. We are, we believe, by this method, saving the purchaser 25 per cent or more and complete the transaction most expeditiously and satisfactorily. We especially call attention to location of our Dixie Highway Tract. It adjoins the Charles Deering place on the north and extends from Dixie Highway to Bay View Ave., overlooking the Bay. All inside lots are held at a uniform price of $195 each, corner $390. If in this connection you note the fact that lots in Charles Deering tract which adjoins the Charles Deering place on the south, are held at prices ranging from about $3,000 to $5,000, and are on lower land, you will readily see that lots in Dixie Highway will certainly appreciate rapidly in value with the growth of Miami, and that you will make no mistake in buying now. It is unreasonable to expect an advance of one hundred per cent in values within one year? May we not urge those of our home people thinking to secure a lot while cheap in price and most attractively located, to select now? May we not urge tourists seeking a place for building a winter home to visit us, and may we not urge those who want to get a bunch of lots on which to build houses to sell or rent to select now while the selection is good—the bunches are unbroken. Dixie Highway Tract has many advantages, such as electric light, telephone, jitney buses about half hourly, ice, meat, groceries delivered daily, daily mail delivery, high school, churches, literary clubs, fraternities, and other advantages of a happy and cultured community. J. A. Gates & Son, 235 Twelfth street. Telephone 316.

AMUSEMENTS

Virginia Pearson at Paramount Today.

Everybody who knows the Bowery knows Blossom street. It is the huddled mass of broken-down dwellings where Anne lives. Anne is the one sweet spirit among the great hopeless humanity which dwells there.

Anne is the part Virginia Pearson plays in her newest William Fox picture, "Bitter Truth," which is the main attraction today at the Paramount theatre. Like all other beings of her class, Anne has her lover. He is Jimmy Graves, crook (Jack Hopkins), and when he is caught and jailed Anne, who has been trying to warn him of his danger, is imprisoned too. She comes from the black walls, five years later, swearing revenge against Judge Marcus (William H. Tooker) who had imprisoned her.

The girl gradually works herself into close friendship with the jurist. When she is about to accomplish her

ADVERTISE IN THE HERALD

Since the Announcement of Our Half Million Dollar Sale --OF RESIDENCE LOTS IN BEAUTIFUL-- RIVERSIDE HEIGHTS

PUBLIC ATTENTION HAS BEEN CENTERED ON THE IMMENSE DEVELOPMENT GOING ON IN THIS SECTION, WHICH IS THE FASTEST GROWING PART OF THE ENTIRE CITY

---Within the next sixty days many people will buy residence lots in Riverside Heights, in addition to those who have bought this week.

—Some of these people are buying for investment purposes, some of them will start building homes in the near future. Still others have assured us that they are shaping their plans so that they, too, will be enabled to purchase before the end of the season. A number of people (who did not buy) have told us they only wished we had started our publicity campaign for Riverside Heights long before this, as they had not dreamed of the magnitude of our developments there, and had not known what it meant in the way of big increases in values, or they would have bought in Riverside Heights instead of where they did.

—It means everything to "buy where the Tatum develop for you." Every property owner in Riverside Heights knows his holdings are worth much more today than what he paid for them—and he knows the increase is due to the way the Tatum push developments through, and the big scale on which they make improvements.

BEAUTIFUL

Riverside
Heights

WHICH IS
A CLASS
BY ITSELF

—There is nothing on the market today that compares with Beautiful Riverside Heights.

---The Building Records show more new homes going up west of the river than in all other sections combined.

—And needless to say, the greater portion of these new homes are in BEAUTIFUL RIVERSIDE HEIGHTS, where the conditions and surroundings are ideal for home-making. Nothing that could be desired by the most exacting people has been left undone, and all conveniences together with the all-important inducement of direct street car service, make Riverside Heights the ideal spot for a home in Miami.

—It is the immense development, being done by the Tatum and the individual property holders in Riverside Heights, coupled with the natural trend of development toward the west, that absolutely assures an hundred-fold advance in prices in this choice residential section within the next few years, making Riverside Heights the safest and best investment for people of moderate means.
